Stephen Thompson: Type 2 diabetes for 10 years, my A1c was 12, I couldn't get my blood sugar below 200 and yet I was taking five injections a day, around 250 units...

I had a severe problem with my liver, that was very dangerous... kidneys, neuropathy and loss of feeling on the outside of my feet, my eyes were starting to bleed, I had asthma for 30 years, I was on all kinds of meds...

Five for my asthma, cholesterol, blood pressure, you name it. I had a specialist for my liver and she was talking in terms of, you know, liver transplant.
